APG&E will provide Customer at least thirty (30) calendar days' notice in advance of the end of Initial Term. For Customers returning to Utility service or switching to another REP at the end of Initial Term, it may take up to sixty (60) days for Customer's accounts to be returned to Utility depending on Utility switching procedures, and Customer is responsible for all APG&E supply charges until Customer returns to Utility or switches to another REP. A final bill will be rendered after the final meter reading. Upon completion of the Initial Term, if Customer does not provide consent to renewal terms, this Agreement will automatically renew, and Customer shall continue to receive electric service from APG&E at a month-to-month variable Holdover Rate, until Customer renews with APG&E or switches to another REP or back to Utility. Agreement, in accordance with the terms of the applicable tariff for retail delivery service.
